

QUANTBOATS REDEFINES SAILING

We are on the threshold of a new era in sailing. Foiling is experiencing an unexpected upswing for many. But it's no coincidence that the urge for "speed" is in and fits into our time of "speed dictates".

Foiling conveys an unrivalled intensive sailing experience - and with the sailing youth hardly any convincing work has to be done regarding foiling.

QUANTBOATS is a lateral entrant in this market. We do not belong to the "foiling avant-garde". We think very openly and have set ourselves the task differently right from the start. Boats that can "only" foil are too few for us and therefore our products know other operating conditions besides the foiling mode.

The QUANT23 and the QUANT 17 are currently the only sailboats worldwide that master all four known sailing modes, such as displacement sailing, planing, semi-foiling and full foiling. They are therefore more versatile than most comparable modern, sporty sailing boats.

QUANTBOATS has really redefined sailing.

We wish you a lot of fun on the water today, a good season 2018 and we look forward to hearing from you or meeting you again.

WHAT'S UP AT QUANTBOATS IN 2018

THE MODEL RANGE IS GROWING

SKEETA - the name of this new one-handed foiler describes a Mosquito species in Australian colloquial language - and the deadliest of all. The rather harmless appearance of the Scow is deceptive. During the performance the SKEETA comes much closer to a Foiling Skiff-Moth than one would expect. Ask for the boat description.

QUANT 17 - The harsh winter has set us back in time. However, we will soon be testing the latest Q-Foil generation for the Q17. This promises a further increase in performance. Give us a little more time, please. The boat should be perfect and also make adrenaline junkies happy.

Twelve QUANT23 have been built since the start of production a good 1 ½ years ago. Another one will leave the shipyard shortly. In November we delivered a boat to Australia and soon one will go to the USA. The Lake Thun Sailing School has purchased a QUANT23 in winter and will be offering courses and guest sailing on the boat from the end of April.
